BULLET STRIKES

Mrs. A. D. Spencer Injured by Stray Leaden Missile

Mrs. A. D. Spencer, wife of A. D. Spencer of the Spencer Bros., automobile garage was struck by a stray rifle bullet this morning, while waiting at Third street and McKean avenue with her husband for a Pittsburg trolley car. Fainting she was carried into the Walfred Hotel and Dr. McKay called. She was revived and taken home where the bullet was extracted from its resting place on the frontal bone. The injury will not prove very serious.

Mrs. Spencer was facing up Third street when the bullet struck. The leaden missle came down slantingly tearing a hole in her hat, and striking her in the center of the forehead. Its progress partly arrested by coming in contact with the skull, the bullet pushed its way down toward the nose to lodge over the frontal bone, just between the eyes.

The bullet is a 22-calibre slug and apparently was shot from a rifle. Whether the shooter was stationed on the hill in Charleroi or whether he was further back is a question. The force of the ball was about spent whe nit reached Mrs. Spencer and was simply falling. Had it been traveling at a much greater rate of speed it might have penetrated the skull with fatal results. Efforts will be made to find out who did the shooting. Mrs. Spencer was able to walk with assistance to an automobile to be taken home.

SUPPOSED THAT DEER SWAM RIVER AT ROSCOE

It is believed that the deer which was shot by two Washington men near Washington last Monday was one that was seen on the farm of Christian Deaterly, back of Fayette City last week, of which comment was made. The deer was seen the fore part of last week and then later on Saturday. It is declared by a boy at Roscoe that he saw the deer swimming the river towards the Washington county side, and that it had spreading horns with three prongs each, the same that the deer shot near Washington had. It is asserted that a California man took a shot at what he thought was a deer.

It is supposed the deer wandered from the mountains near Connellsville or Uniontown towards the Monongahela valley and then, crossing the river, took in the direction of Washington. The deer killed near the county seat was the first that had been shot in this county it is declared by the oldest residents for about 60 years.

Turkey Meat To Come High

Thanksgiving Birds to be Retailed at the Rate of 30 Cents Per Pound

People who would taste turkey on Thanksgiving face the condition of having to pay 30 cents per pound to gratify their desire. The birds are reported scarce, and some farmers do not expect to market their fowls until Christmas. Last spring is said to have been unfavorable for young turkeys and many did not pass the first few weeks of their lives. Beyond this some farmers have raised turkeys in other years that have none this year. Most of thet urkeys sold in this market it is stated will have to be brought here from other places and high prices will be the result.

ON TRIAL FOR FUNKA MURDER

George Green Case Now in Progress Before the County Criminal Court

The case in criminal court at Washington against George Green, charged with the murder of Celia Funka, the 19-year-old German girl who was assaulted and choked to death near Manifold August4, came up for trial Wednesday forenoon. A jury was quickly empaneled and the work of taking of testimony on the part of the prosecution began. District Attarney R. G. Miller, in his opening address outlined his case against Green and will ask for a first degree verdict.

The killing of Celia Funka was a very brutal crime. She was about 19 years of age and evidently following a criminal assault had been strangled to death. No one saw the crime committed and the body of the girl was not found until about 24 hours after she met her death. The place where the crime was committed was off what is known as the "mud road," leading to Manifold, to the east of it, and hidden from the road by undergrowth and bushes. The commonwealth, it is understood, bases its case on circumstantial evidence. District Attorney R. G. Miller is conducting the case for the commonwealth and the defendant is represented by Attorney James A. Magill.

TO MAKE RESEARCH

Charleroi Marketing Club Lays Plans for Future Work

At the meeting of the Charleroi Marketing Club in the Business Men's Association Rooms Wednesday, the matter of purchasing scales for household use was brought up. A good spring household scale was submitted by the Bowers Hardware company,and J. H. Bowers, who was present, stated that while it was all right and accurate for household matters, it could not be sealed by the sealer, which might give rise to disputes. He said he would get samples and quotations on a scale that could be inspected and sealed and submit them to the club. It is the idea for all the members of the club who can to buy scales and have them tested and sealed by O. E. Mikesell, the county sealer of weights and measures.

The committee to investigate the high price of milk reported progress and the matter was discussed at some length. It was stated that one milk dealer in Charleroi who had a limited supply was still selling at eight cents a quart to his patrons, while the milk dealers' association charges ten cents. The committee was changed slightly at the request of one of the members who could not serve, and continued.

In a discussion concerning weights and measures one of the members stated that she know a woman in town who had an official peck measure, and that when she bought of hucksters insisted on using her own measure, and that one of the hucksters at least refused to sell the woman any more produce. A research committee was appointed to watch for informations of anything of interest to the club and present it when opportunity offered.

NEW SCHOOL ON HILL IMMENSE STRUCTURE

The immensity of the new school building to be erected by the Charleroi school district on Crest avenue is shown by the large wall that is now in course of construction. It was stated some time ago that the wall was nearing completion, but this was wrong, only a good start having been made on it. Theb uilding will occupy nearly the entire length of the lots the school district owns, and the breadth of the structure will be little less than the length of any of the other school buildings. At the lower side the heighth of the wall in some places above the ground will be approximately 22 feet. A large playroom is to be provided for boys and a similar one for girls. Efforts are being made to get the wall finished as soon as possible, but that may mean the first of the year. A big fill is being made at the lower end of the school property, facing on Lookout avenue.

PERCY SMALLWOOD COMING SATURDAY

A man as widely known almost as Jim Thorpe, the Indian athlete, and a man who in his way is just as capable, Percy Smallwood, the Welsh young man of Pittsburg who enjoys the reputation of being the world's champion middle distance runner, will be at the Charleroi Skating ring Saturday night for his first appearance of a seven week's engagement there. Shaner Blythe, manager of the rink is getting things in shape for Smallwood.

Smallwood has been seen in action by a number of Charleroi sport lovers but so far as is known he never raced in Charleroi. On every night he is here he will race against relay teams three and five miles. Amateur races will be conducted also under his direction. "Kid" West, Smallwood's manager will do heel and toe walking.

KUHNS BUY ROAD BONDS

Pittsburg Firm Secures $100,000 Worth of County Issue

County Commissioners Hill, Berry and Barnum have sold the issue of Washington county road bonds to the amount of $100,000 to J. S. and W. S. Kuhn of Pittsburg at a premium of $659. The Kuhns are already interested in other Washington county bonds and they appear to have faith in further investments here. They are backing the West Penn trolley and electric activities in this county. The sale just made is considered a very good one. The other bidders for these bonds were Harris Forbes & Co., New York, whose bid was $591, and the Mellon National bank of Pittsburg, whose bid was $510.

EIGHT COUNTIES ABOVE WASHINGTON

Eight counties in Pennsylvania have more personal property subject to taxation than in Washington county, acocrding to the returns of Auditor General A. E. Sisson. Of the other 59 counties all have smaller personal property valuations.

The total valuation of personal property according to the return of Auditor General Sisson is $1,326,095,069.56, this being the greatest figure ever known in the history of Pennsylvania. Yet considerable property is escaping taxation this year.

Philadelphia county, which contains Philadelphia, leads the list, with a total valuation of personal property of $582,223,557. Allegheny county containing Pittsburg, has a valuation of $212,872,080.

Washington county's valuation is $18,182,126, as contrasted to the 1911 personal property valuation of $17,809,939. Five of the counties showed an actual decrease in their property valuation. All of these are small counties.. Fulton county with only $280,608 of a valuation wins the flag for being the smallest in point of the amount of personal property.

Gas Price Soars Also

Monongahela Companies Boost Rate to 20 Cents Per Thousand Feet

Monongahela people are growling about the raise in the price of gas there from 10 to 20 cents per thousand feet by two of the three companies having franchises. The raise is effective on December 1. About a year ago the Citizen's Gas company raised the price of gas from 10 to 15 cents. The two older companies, the Bellwood and Monongahela City Natural gas company, and the West Monongahela gas company, stuck to their 10 cent rate. They found this unprofitable, it is stated, which is the reason for the raise now. According to the change the rate will be 25 cents with 5 cents off for prompt payment of bills, which is about 5 cents lower rate than Charleroi has. The two gas companies claim that they are unable to procure a good supply of gas without bringing it from West Virginia fields.

TOO MANY NEW FADS

This is Concensus of Opinion at the Local Teachers' Meeting

Fads and frills in the school curriculm tending to the elimination of instruction in the three R's received a rude jolt at the meeting of the directors and teachers of the Charleroi schools in what might be termed their first local institute at the Ninth street school Wednesday night. That it is infinitely better for a boy to know how to whittle if he is to be a carpenter or to figure if he is to be a bookkeeper; that it is more appropriate for a girl to learn to write if she aspires to become an amanuensis or to cook if she expects to get married, than it isforhimor her to acquire a speaking equaintancewith such dead ones as Caesar and Cecero of the Latins, was apparently the concensus of opinion. Anyhow the various speakers laid stress on just such things.

Prof. W. S. Hertzog, the newly inaugurated principal of the California Normal school was the chief speaker. Prof. Hertzog spoke on "Waste in Teaching." His opinion was that in the school curriculm there were things that would represent 50 per cent of a waste in the teaching of pupils, meaning that an exact half of the school pupils of today are suffering from lack of preparation for their life duties.

W. D. Pollock, president of the school board told what the directors expected of the teachers. In one phrase, the substance of his talk might be expressed that the teachers are expected to make good in their work.

That the home has much to do with the conduct of the school and that the co-operation of parents and patrons of the schools means much to its success, was chief thought in a talk given of H. J. Booth, a member of the school board. Miss Margaret Laird, principal of the Fifth street school building read a paper on "A School as it Has Been Seen by a Visitor." An address on reading was made on "Reading," by Miss Edith Woodhall, a teacher. In these two talks the idea of reform in school wark was treated. Prof. S. R. Grim, principal of High School spoke of the relation of the grades to the High School, which he said was similar to the relation of the High School to the college.

Dr. F. C. Stahlman treated the subject of "Criticism of the Public Schools." He said that while much of the criticism of the schools was just, infinitel more was unjust he denied the oft-repeated assertion t hat the public school system was a failure. J. M. Hill and Joseph Schoener, members of the board made talks.

Music was furnished by the High School orchestra, under direction of Prof. I. T. Daniel, music supervisor in the schools and by Miss Ethel Hawthorne, a soprano soloist. All the teachers but two who were kept away by illness and all but two of the directors were present.

BEATS TARIFF REDUCTION.

By the simple use of honest weigths and measures Murray G. Livingston, sealer of weights and measures in Pittsburg, estimates that the enormous sum of $1,575,000 has been saved to the people of that city in one year. In that space of time Mr. Livigston and his assistants have made 61,316 inspectors and condemned 9,657 scales, weights and measures.

This estimate is no mere guess on Mr. Livingston's part, but is made on the percentage of short measures and weights detected in the sale of various commodities. In the matter of potatoes Mr. Livingston found that there were 800 hucksters selling that commodity in greater Pittsburg, 10 per cent of whom were using a false peck measure that was short on an average of 76 cubic inches. If the huckster averaged 20 bushels a day at 25 cents a peck, the purchasing public was short-changed in round numbers $208,000 for potatoes alone in one year. The same basis of comparison was made in other commodities. In sugar Mr. Livingston found that in 150 cases of short weights detected, the rate would amount to a shortage to the purchasers of $9,750 a year. Coffee, butter, milk, meat and everything else was being short-changed. The use of liquid measures for dry measures alone made a shortage of $100,000 a year to consumers in the Pittsburg district.

Honest weights and measures is more important than a reduction of the tariff. The tariff only affects a few articles, but the short weight catches the family every day in the year. The law is still inefficient, as it does not provide for sufficient and close enough inspection and does not include meters, An act should be passed at the coming session of the legislature to include meter inspection with that of weights and measures, and to elminate minimum rates and the compelling of consumers to pay for the measuring apparatus to a company, that sells the product.

HOME RULE IN OHIO.

The municipal home rule amendment provided by Ohio's new constitution is now in effect. Municipalities may now determine their form of government by any of three ways. They may, upon vote of the people, elect 15 citizens to frame a charter which must be submitted to the people for approval. The form of government they may have can either be the commission, the federal or any other plan not out of harmony with the new organic law of the state.

Up until now the cities and villages of the state could only have the form and machinery of government provided for them by the general assembly Now every municipality, if thee lectors so order, may frame its own charter and choose its own form of government without having to consult the legislature and is given authority to exercise all powers of local self government.

The contast in Pennsylvania was evidenced when the people of Pittsburg tried to get a charter two years ago that would give them home rule, but had to be content with a sorry substitute that the legislature saw fit to grant them. This legislature was composed of men who were in no way fitted to pass judgment on the kind of city government the Pittsburg people demanded but the latter had to accept the inevitable and be governed at the dictation of aliens. Ohio has set a good example and Pennsylvania citizens will do well to study its application and workings.

Weak men are the worst growlers over the telephone.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

Louis Goaziou, editor of L'Union des Travailleurs, who has just returned from a trip abroad in France and Belgium, where he visited his native land after an absence of over 30 years, states that while he had a most interesting time, he is glad to get back to the good old U. S. A., and that he still prefers this country notwithstanding he was born abroad.

"What I noticed most was the absence of American conveniences in traveling," said Mr. Goaziou. "I missed the everyday hotel comforts we have in this country which there are luxuries. Another thing that added to my discomfort was the lack of good barber shops. Why in Paris, when you go into a barber shop to get shaved they sit you down in a common chair, throw your head over the back until they nearly break your neck in two, and then slap the lather on with a brush, paying no attention whether they hit your mouth or eyes. Then after hastily scraping your face over in no very gentle manner, the barber says:

"'Ready, M'seur.'

"You look up, and see in front of you on a stand or another chair a basin of water and you are expected to get up from the chair, wash off your own face and then sit down again while the barber combs and dresses your hair. In this they exercise great care for the French are noted hair dressers. I tried to get the barbers to pay less attention to my hair and more to my face, but it was no use. Their ways are not at all like American ways.

Speaking of conditions abroad Mr. Goaziou says that prices and the cost of living seem to be nearly if not as much as in this country, with the difference that wages there are not nearly so high as here.

"I was born in Brittany," said Mr. Goaziou, "back in the agricultural districts and I revisited the scenes of my childhood. There was very little change and I readily recognized places and people I had known when I left there at 16 years of age. Progress and advancement is very slow in that region and the scenes of my early home did not appeal to me, except in a reminiscent way. As I said, I had an interesting journey, but I'm nevertheless glad to get back."

DEMOCRATS FAVOR WORK ON RIVERS

"River improvements in the Pittsburg district can depend upon fair and just treatment at the hands of the next Congress, no matter how the vote went November 5," said S. A. Thompson of Washington, D. C., secretary of the National Rivers and Harbors Congress in a talk on the outlook for waterways projects, heretofore a more or less Republican movement, under the incoming Democratic administration of national affairs

"President-elect Wilson is a sincere advocate of river improvements," said Secretary Thompson, "and the last Democratic House of Representatives gave no indication of upsetting the Republican party program of continuing rivers and harbors already outlined, nor did the Democrats appear adverse to inaugurating new work."

"What makes river improvement men maddest is talk of the 'pork barrel' in connection with rivers and harbors appropriations," said Secretary Thompson. "There isn't such a thing. If people who are in the habit of charging that these improvements are made in the interest of some Congressman's re-election knew the facts they wouldn't make such a ridiculous charge."

BULLET STRIKES

Mrs. A. D. Spencer Injured by Stray Leaden Missile

Mrs. A. D. Spencer, wife of A. D. Spencer of the Spencer Bros., automobile garage was struck by a stray rifle bullet this morning, while waiting at Third street and McKean avenue with her husband for a Pittsburg trolley car. Fainting she was carried Kay called. She was revived and taken home where the bullet was extracted from its resting place on the frontal bone. The injury will not prove very serious.

Mrs. Spencer was facing up Third street when the bullet struck. The leaden missle came down slantingly tearing an ole in her hat, and striking her in the center of the forehead. Its progress partly arrested by coming in contact with the skull, the bullet pushed its way down toward the nose to lodge over the frontal bone, just between the eyes.

The bullet is a 22-calibre slug and apparently was shot from a rifle. Whether the shooter was stationed on theh ill in Charleroi or whether he was further back is a question. The force of the ball was about spent whe nit reached Mrs. Spencer and was simply falling. Had it been traveling at a much greater rate of speed it might have penetrated the skull with fatal results. Efforts will be made to find out who did the shooting. Mrs. Spencer was able to walk with assistance to an automobile to be taken home.

SUPPOSED THAT DEER SWAM RIVER AT ROSCOE

It is believed that the deer which was shot by two Washington men near Washington last Monday was one that was seen on the farm of Christian Deaterly, back of Fayette City last week, of which comment was made. The deer was seen the fore part of last week and then later on Saturday. It is declared by a boy at Roscoe that he saw the deer swimming the river towards the Washington county side, and that it had spreading horns with three prongs each, the same that the deer shot near Washington had. It is asserted that a California man took a shot at what he thought was a deer.

It is supposed the deer wandered from the mountains near Connellsville or Uniontown towards the Monongahela valley and then, crossing the river, took in the direction of Washington. The deer killed near the county seat was the first that had been shot in this county it is declared by the oldest residents for about 60 years.

ON TRIAL FOR FUNKA MURDER

George Green Case Now in Progress Before the County Criminal Court

The case in criminal court at Washington against George Green, charged with the murder of Celia Funka, the 19-year-old German girl who was assaulted and choked to death near Manifold August4, came up for trial Wednesday forenoon. A jury was quickly empaneled and the work of taking of testimony on the part of the prosecution began. District Attarney R. G. Miller, in his opening address outlined his case against Green and will ask for a first degree verdict.

The killing of Celia Funka was a very brutal crime. She was about 19 years of age and evidently following a criminal assault had been strangled to death. No one saw the crime committed and the body of the girl was not found until about 24 hours after she met her death. The place where the crime was committed was off what is known as the "mud road," leading to Manifold, to the east of it, and hidden from the road by undergrowth and bushes. The commonwealth, it is understood, bases its case on circumstantial evidence. District Attorney R. G. Miller is conducting the case for thecommonwealth and the defendant is represented by Attorney James A. Magill.

Shields, former sheriff of Westmoreland county, who was convicted of permitting prisoners to escape, misdemeanor in office, perjury andembezzlement, and elected a county commissioner after his trial, was again refused pardon by the State Board of Pardons Wednesday. TO MAKE RESEARCH

At the meeting of the Charleroi Marketing Club in the Business Men's Association Rooms Wednesday, the matter of purchasing scales for household use was brought up. A good spring household scale was submitted by the Bowers Hardware company,and that while it was all right and accurate for household matters, it could not be sealed by the sealer, which might give rise to disputes. He said he would get samples and quotations on a scale that could be inspected and sealed and submit them to the club. It is the idea for all the members of the club who can to buy scales and have them tested and sealed by O. E. Mikesell, the county sealer of weights and measures.

The committee to investigate the high price of milk reported progress and the matter was discussed at some length. It was stated that one milk dealer in Charleroi who had a limited supply was still selling at eight cents a quart to his patrons, while the milk dealers' association charges ten cents. The committee was changed slightly at the request of one of the members who could not serve, and continued.

In a discussion concerning weights and measures one of the members stated that she know a woman in town who had an official peck measure, and that when she bought of hucksters insisted on using her own measure, and that one of the hucksters at least refused to sell the woman any more produce. A research committee was appointed to watch for informations of anything of interest to the club and present it when opportunity offered.

NEW SCHOOL ON HILL IMMENSE STRUCTURE

The immensity of the new school building to be erected by the Charleroi school district on Crest avenue is shown by the large wall that is now in course of construction. It was stated some time ago that the wall was nearing completion, but this was wrong, only a good start having been made on it. Theb uilding will occupy nearly the entire length of the lots the school district owns, and the breadth of the structure will be little less than the length of any of the other school buildings. At the lower side the heighth of the wall in some places above the ground will be approximately 22 feet. A large playroom is to be provided for boys and a similar one for girls. Efforts are being made to get the wall finished as soon as possible, but that may mean the first of the year. A big fill is being made at the lower end of the school property, facing on Lookout avenue.

PERCY SMALLWOOD COMING SATURDAY

A man as widely known almost as Jim Thorpe, the Indian athlete, and a man who in his way is just as capable, Percy Smallwood, the Welsh young man of Pittsburg who enjoys the reputation of being the world's champion middle distance runner, will be at the Charleroi Skating ring Saturday night for his first appearance of a seven week's engagement there. Shaner Blythe, manager of the rink is getting things in shape for Smallwood.

Smallwood has been seen in action by a number of Charleroi sport lovers but so far as is known he never raced in Charleroi. On every night he is here he will race against relay teams three and five miles. Amateur races will be conducted also under his direction. "Kid" West, Smallwood's manager will do heel and toe walking.

Be sure and see King Boggot in John Sterling, Alderman, Coyle Theatre, Thursday. 101-t2

KUHNS BUY ROAD BONDS

Pittsburg Firm Secures $100,000 Worth of County Issue

County Commissioners Hill, Berry and Barnum have sold the issue of Washington county road bonds to the amount of $100,000 to J. S. and W. S. Kuhn of Pittsburg at a premium of $659. The Kuhns are already interested in other Washington county in further investments here. They are backing the West Penn trolley and electric activities in this county. The sale just made is considered a very good one. EIGHT COUNTIES ABOVE WASHINGTON

Eight counties in Pennsylvania have more personal property subject to taxation than in Washington county, according to the returns of Auditor General A. E. Sisson. Of the other 59 counties all have smaller personal property valuations.

The total valuation of personal property according to the return of Auditor General Sisson is $1,326,095,069.56, this being the greatest figure ever known in the history of Pennsylvania. Yet considerable property is escaping taxation this year.

Philadelphia county, which contains Philadelphia, leads the list, with a total valuation of personal property of $582,223,557. Allegheny county containing Pittsburg, has a valuation of $212,872,080.

Washington county's valuation is $18,182,126, as contrasted to the 1911 personal property valuation of 17,809,939. Five of the counties showed an actual decrease in their property valuation. All of these are small counties.. Fulton county with only $280,608 of a valuation wins the flag for being the smallest in point of the amount of personal property.

COMPARES FAITH WITH UNBELIEF

Faith and unbelief in the teachings of the Savior and in the redemption of mankind were treated by Rev. F. A. Bright, the evangelist in his sermon at the First Christian church Wednesday night. His subject was, "Faith and Unbelief." He compared these two things and spoke of their effect upon life generally. Tonight Rev. Bright will speak on thesubject "What is it to be a Christian?" Four conversions were reported as a result of the services Wednesday night.

Gas Price Soars Also

Monongahela Companies Boost Rate to 20 Cents Per Thousand Feet

Monongahela people are growling about the raise in the price of gas there from 10 to 20 cents per thousand feet by two of the three companies having franchises. The raise is effective on December 1. About a year ago the Citizen's Gas company raised the price of gas from 10 to 15 cents. The two older companies, the natural gas company, and the West Monongahela gas company, stuck to their 10 cent rate. They found this unprofitable, it is stated, which is the reason for the raise now. According to the change the rate will be 25 cents with 5 cents off for prompt payment of bills, which is of not 5 cents lower rate than Charleroi has. The two gas companies claim that they are unable to procure a good supply of gas without bringing it from West Virginia fields.

TOO MANY NEW FADS

This is Concensus of Opinion at the Local Teachers' Meeting

Fads and frills in the school curriculm tending to the elimination of instruction in the three R's received a rude jolt at the meeting of the directors and teachers of the Charleroi schools in what might be termed their first local institute at the Ninth street school Wednesday night. That it is infinitely better for a boy to know how to whittle if he is to be a carpenter or to figure if he is to be a bookkeeper; that it is more appropriate for a girl to learn to write if she aspires to become an amanuensis or to cook if she expects to get married, than it is for them to acquire a speaking equaintance with such dead ones as Caesar and Cecero of the Latins, was apparently the concensus of opinion. Anyhow the various speakers laid stress on just such things.

Prof. W. S. Hertzog, the newly inaugurated principal of the California Normal school was the chief speaker. Prof. Hertzog spoke on "Waste in Teaching." His opinion was that in the school curriculm there were things that would represent 50 per cent of a waste in the teaching of pupils, meaning that an exact half of the school pupils of today are suffering from lack of preparation for their life duties.

W. D. Pollock, president of the school board told what the directors expected of the teachers. In one phrase, the substance of his talk might be expressed that the teachers are expected to make good in their work.

That the home has much to do with the conduct of the school and that the co-operation of parents and patrons of the schools means much to its success, was chief thought in a talk given of H. J. Booth, a member of the school board. Miss Margaret Laird, principal of the Fifth street school building read a paper on "A School as it Has Been Seen by a Visitor." An address on reading was made on "Reading," by Miss Edith Woodhall, a teacher. In these two talks the idea of reform in school wark was treated. Prof. S. R. Grim, principal of High School spoke of the relation of the grades to the High School, which he said was similar to the relation of the High School to the college.

Dr. F. C. Stahlman treated the subject of "Criticism of the Public Schools." He said that while much of the criticism of the schools was just, infinitel more was unjust he denied the oft-repeated assertion t hat the public school system was a failure. J. M. Hill and Joseph Schoener, members of the board made talks.

Music was furnished by the High School orchestra, under direction of Prof. I. T. Daniel, music supervisor in the schools and by Miss Ethel Hawthorne, a soprano soloist. All the teachers but two who were kept away by illness and all but two of the directors were present.

BEATS TARIFF REDUCTION.

By the simple use of honest weigths and measures Murray G. Livingston, sealer of weights and measures in Pittsburg, estimates that the enormous sum of $1,575,000 has been saved to the people of that city in one year. In that space of time Mr. Livigston and his assistants have made 61,316 inspectors and condemned 9,657 scales, weights and measures.

This estimate is no mere guess on Mr. Livingston's part, but is made on the percentage of short measures and weights detected in the sale of various commodities. In the matter of potatoes Mr. Livingston found that there were 800 hucksters selling that commodity in greater Pittsburg, 75 per cent of whom were using a false peck measure that was short on an average of 76 cubic inches. If the huckster averaged 20 bushels a day at 25 cents a peck, the purchasing public was short-changed in round numbers $208,000 for potatoes alone in one year. The same basis of comparison was made in other commodities. In sugar Mr. Livingston found that in 150 cases of short weights detected, the rate would amount to a shortage to the purchasers of $9,750 a year. Coffee, butter, milk, meat and everything else was being short-changed. The use of liquid measures for dry measures alone made a shortage of $100,000 a year to consumers in the Pittsburg district.

Honest weights and measures is more important than a reduction of the tariff. The tariff only affects a few articles, but the short weight catches the family every day in the year. The law is still inefficient, as it does not provide for sufficient and close enough inspection and does not include meters. An act should be passed at the coming session of the legislature to include meter inspection with that of weights and measures, and to elminate minimum rates and the compelling of consumers to pay for the measuring apparatus to a company that sells the product.

HOME RULE IN OHIO.

The municipal home rule amendment provided by Ohio's new constitution is now in effect. Municipalities may now determine their form of government by any of three ways. They may, upon vote of the people, elect 15 citizens to frame a charter which must be submitted to the people for approval. The form of government they may have can either be the commission, the federal or any other plan not out of harmony with the new organic law of the state.

Up until now the cities and villages of the state could only have the form and machinery of government provided for them by the general assembly. Now every municipality, if thee lectors so order, may frame its own charter and choose its own form of government without having to consult the legislature and is given authority to exercise all powers of local self government.

The contast in Pennsylvania was evidenced when the people of Pittsburg tried to get a charter two years ago that would give them home rule, but had to be content with a sorry substitute that the legislature saw fit to grant them. This legislature was composed of men who were in no way fitted to pass judgment on the kind of city government the Pittsburg people demanded but the latter had to accept the inevitable and be governed at the dictation of aliens. Ohio has set a good example and Pennsylvania citizens will do well to study its application and workings.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

Louis Goaziou, editor of L'Union des Travailleurs, who has just returned from a trip abroad in France and Belgium, where he visited his native land after an absence of over 30 years, states that while he had a most interesting time, he is glad to get back to the good old U. S. A., and that he still prefers this country notwithstanding he was born abroad.

"What I noticed most was the absence of American conveniences in traveling," said Mr. Goaziou. "I missed the everyday hotel comforts we have in this country which there are luxuries. Another thing that added to my discomfort was the lack of good barber shops. Why in Paris, when you go into a barber shop to get shaved they sit you down in a common chair, throw your head over the back until they nearly break your neck in two, and then slap the lather on with a brush, paying no attention whether they hit your mouth or eyes. Then after hastily scraping your face over in no very gentle manner, the barber says:

"'Ready, M'seur.'

"You look up, and see in front of you on a stand or another chair a basin of water and you are expected to get up from the chair, wash off your own face and then sit down again while the barber combs and dresses your hair. In this they exercise great care for the French are noted bers to pay less attention to my hair and more to my face, but it was no use. Their ways are not at all like American ways.

Speaking of conditions abroad Mr. Goaziou says that prices and the cost of living seem to be nearly if not as much as in this country, with the difference that wages there are not nearly so high as here.

'I was born in Brittany," said Mr. Goaziou, "back in the agricultural districts and I revisited the scenes of my childhood. There was very little change and I readily recognized places and people I had known when I left there at 16 years of age. Progress and advancement is very slow in that region and the scenes of my early home did not appeal to me, except in a reminiscent way. As I said, I had an interesting journey, but I'm nevertheless glad to get back."

DEMOCRATS FAVOR WORK ON RIVERS

"River improvements in the Pittsburg district can depend upon fair and just treatment at the hands of the next Congress, no matter how the vote went November 5," said S. A. Thompson of Washington, D. C., secretary of the National Rivers and Harbors Congress in a talk on the outlook for waterways projects, heretofore a more or less Republican movement, under the incoming Democratic administration of national affairs.

"President-elect Wilson is a sincere advocate of river improvements," said Secretary Thompson, "and the last Democratic House of Representatives gave no indication of upsetting the Republican party program of continuing rivers and harbors already outlined, nor did the Democrats appear adverse to inaugurating new work."

"What makes river improvement men maddest is talk of the 'pork barrel' in connection with rivers and harbors appropriations," said Secretary Thompson. "There isn't such a thing. If people who are in the habit of charging that these improvements are made in the interest of some Congressman's re-election knew the facts they wouldn't make such a ridiculous charge."

Come—Farm Where Success is Sure

WHY waste time and wear out your life working an Eastern farm, when land in the Sacramento Valley, California, will produce many times more net profit to the acre, with less work and worry.
In Northern California the soil is richer, sun shines more oftener and irrigation makes you independent of the rain and drought.
Oranges, alfalfa and all fruits, grains, grasses and vegetables mature four to six weeks earlier in Northern California.
Stock and poultry are easier to raise and produce more because the climate is milder, and they can be kept out of doors all the year, where green feed grows in abundance.
Markets are near, with cheap railroad, river and trolley transportation.
Investigate these wonderful farms; large acreage is unnecessary.

"TWENTY'S PLENTY—FORTY'S A FORTUNE"

Read carefully this table of profits and note the production to the acre; you will then understand why the Kuhn farms in the Sacramento Valley are money makers.
